AFFAIRS OF THE DISTRICT.

The Views of Architects on the Municipal Hospital Plans.

A Hearing in the Interest of an Amended Programme of Competition-The Verdict in the Opening of Pennsylvania Avenue Extended of competition for the plans of the pro posed Municipal Hospital were the sub-ject of discussion at a hearing before the Commissioners vesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Several architects took excep-tions to the terms of the programme soon after its publication, and the Commissioners invited those interested in the matter to appear before them and state their obections. This was done yesterday, twelve rehitects from Washington and other dities being present.

mittee of the Washington Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, presented to the Commissioners their objections to the programme. In the course of his remarks, he said: ritical stage. A hospital built with pubands the best skill of the land and of the lay. To build such a hospital is to asume a grave responsibility toward this ind future generations.

"A hospital deals with human life at a ing.

'If the present programme is not satisfactory, it may be asked how can a new one be issued without injustice to such architects as may already oe at work ipon the problem? We believe this presents no difficulty. We suggest, speaking for the committee of the Washington Chapter of the American Institute of Ar-

Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, a new programme, to provide:

"First—For drawings at a small scale,
"Second—A selection of perhaps three designs from those submitted.

"Third—A second competition, by the authors of the three selected designs, at a larger scale,
"Fourth—A selection of one design from these three

Fourth—A selection of one design from these three.

Fifth—A division of one-half of the sum at the disposal of the Commissioners between the two unsuccessful competitors in the second competition.

Sixth—That the author of the successful design be recommended to Congress as the architect of the hospital.

Seventh—That the question of compensation to the successful architect be stricken from the programme.

"Eighth—That ample time be given for the proper study of so important a subject.

"Eighth—That ample time be given for the proper study of so important a subject." "Ninth—That a professional adviser be selected at once, and the new programme prepared in consultation with him.

Tenth—A payment to the professional adviser of one-half of the sum at the disposal of the Commissioners."

J. C. Hornblewer, of Washington, spoke in favor of the objections, putting special emphasis upon the appointment of a professional adviser to supervise the work of issuing the programme of competition, and of getting the plans aubmitted in shape to submit to Congress.

Others who spoke upon the matter were A. G. Notting, of Baltimore, and James Monroe Hewlett, of New York.

Commissioner Beach said the Board, when the matter was before the committees of Congress last winter, had asked a larger sum for the preparation of the plans. He said they were told that they must get along with the £5,000 appropriated. Commissioner Beach said that the idea in the minds of the committee was that the plans should be sufficient to enable Congress to estimate the necessary cost of the structure or structures to be erected. He said that he had taken up the matter of employing professional supervision and found that it would be impossible to secure such service and have anything left to remunerate the architects. He said that the programme had been drawn so as to suit the Conmissioner before the circumstances.

It was finally agreed that the Conmissioner is the committee of the circumstances.

It was finally agreed that the Commissioners would consider the facts set before them by the architects and would announce their decision through the committee of the American Institute of Architects.

from their Attorney a copy of the order of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia confirming the verdict, award, and assessment in the case of the opening of Pennsylvania Avenue southeast The Attorney states that no objections or exceptions on the part of the owners of land condemned or of land assessed have been filed in the case. The Commissioners are informed that this order is the termination of the proceedings, and that there is no legal reason for any further delay on the part of the District in carrying out the purpose of the proceeding.

The extension of Pennsylvania Avenue southeast was provided for under the general street extension act, approved March 3, 1899, in which the Commissioners were directed to extend the Avenue to the District line and to grade and im-prove the same. It was also provided that condemnation proceedings should be begun for the acquisition of the necessary land for the extension. These proceed-ings and others in connection with the opening of streets were in dispute for some time and the opening of the thor-oughfare has been delayed until the pres-ent time.

The next step in the opening of the Avenue will be the settlement of the damages awarded by the Auditor and the assessment of the benefits by the special assessment clerk. This will establish the ittle to the land in the District of Columbia, and the opening of the street and its improvement will await a special appropriation for the purpose from Congress.

G. T. Robinson, of 263 F Street northseeking information relative to his application for building a porch in front of his premises. He requested that an inspection be made and a permit granted for a porch fourteen feet and six inches long.

In considering the application the Inspector of Bulldings stated that the proposed porch was a projection beyond the building line and that he could not recommend the same. The officials of the Tax Department have recommended the refund of the tax paid in duplicate for the year 19st on sub-let D and parts of sublets 24 and 25, block B, Petworth subdivision, assessed in the name of Charles P. Blackman.

The Inspector of Plumbing has recommended the execution of and service of notice relative to the repair of plumbing at 393 Eleventh Street northeast.

W. R. Killmon, operator at the central bureau of the police and fire-nlarm tele-graph service, recently reported to the Commissioners that about 8:19 p. m. on September 9, a false alarm of fire was sounded from box 85, Fifteenth and Chapin Streets northwest. The matter was placed in the hands of the police of the Tenth precinct and through the activity of Sergeant Bremerman, Private Berry-man and Bicycle Policeman Harry Evans, three colored boys were arrested, one of whom was fined $10 for the offence.

was referred to the office of the Assessor, and E. W. Griffin, the Assistant Assessor, has reported giving a summary of the records relative to this property, closing his report as follows:

"It is evident from the chaotic condition of this account that the office was at fault, and the follows to liquidate the tax should not attach to the owner! I think this is a case where the facts involved warrant the action requested, and I so recommend."

Andrew B. Duvall, the Attorney for the Andrew B. Duvan, the Attorney for the District, has just sent to the Commissioners a copy of the order of the court confirming the verdict, award and assessment in the case of the extension of Pennsylvania Avenue seutheast. The Attorney states that this is the termination of the legal proceedings in the case, and that there is no reason for further delay in corving out the sulrit of the proceedings. carrying out the spirit of the proceedings.

Andrew B. Duyall, the Attorney for the missioners an adverse opinion upon the a decision of the Court of Appeals, in the case of the District of Columbia vs. Wormley, in which the court held that similar assessments made under the act of Congress approved April 24, 1888, were valid. The Attorney says that the objections urged in the case cited were identical with those presented in the present application.

For the reason that several application have been made by the American Uni-versity for the extension of water mains for the service of its building, the Commissioners have decided to lay 250 feet of 6-inch water main on Nebraska Avenue, from the end of the existing main along the middle of the avenue in a southwesterly direction for the service of the university. This action is taken to avoid the tearing up of the macadam on Nebraska Avenue, about to be placed on that thoroughfare.

The Superintendent of Repairs has submitted to the Commissioners a schedule of proposals received for the construction of a new bollerhouse, with plumbing, for the Jefferson School Building, and recom-mends that contract be awarded to W. E. Mooney.

At the instance of Charles E. Nyman, the Commissioners have extended the commission of Picury D. Mason as additional policeman for a period of three years for duty in and about the National Safe Deposit and Trust Cempany's Buildemn and Impressive Services. The Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur, was observed by the orthodox Jewish community, Adath-Israel, at their syna-gogue, Sixth and G Streets northwest. The entire congregation spent the day in from either eating or drinking from sunset Sunday to 6:30 o'clock at night the following day.

Rev. Julius T. Loeb, their new rabbi, who recently arrived from Brooklyn, N. Y., made the services highly impressive. On Sunday night, after the stirring prayer, Kol Nidre, which he rendered, he delivered an interesting address appropriate to the occasion, referring to the tragic event still fresh in the mind of all. Said he:

"Our good and great Chief, William Mc Kinley, has been laid to rest, the earth has closed over his mortal remains, and his noble soul has found repose from its earthly toils in the realms of eternal bliss, amidst the righteous and the blessed. He fitted. But his departure has left with us an awful lesson, and that is, how little we can trust to human nature even in a land of peace, and at this so-called enlightened age.

"How absurd, how ridiculous it were to assume that the restraints of religion and its all-embracing morality are no mistic view would make him the friend of all.

"A diffusion of religious knowledge is what is most necessary for the extirpation of anarchy. Give your children a moral training and imprint on the tender mind the wise teaching: My son, 'Fear the Lord and the chief of state.' Shun anarchy and the anarchists as you would a leper and leprosy, Remove from your midst every root that beareth gail and wormwood. Remove all evil from your midst, and let the world see in you the ever faithful children of Light, the scions of the early great ones who thought the of the early great ones who thought the world an example of true godliness and world an example of true godfiness and peace forever.

Second Street and South Carolina Avenue and the exercises there began at 12 o'clock. There were present Dr. Kingsman, Mrs. Gordon, and Mrs. Francis, of the Board of Education, and Commissioner Henry B. F. Macfarland. Music was furnished by the pupils and teachers, who sang "America" at the beginning of the exercises. Dr. Kingsman presided and made a short address, sk tching the career of Josiah Dent, in whose honor the building has been named. "Mr. Dent," he said, "was born in Charles County, Md., in 1817, and educated at Charlotte Hall, a famous academy. He studied law and went to St. Louis to practice his profession. Stampede at the Capitol.

Thomas J. Caddell, an employe of the Congressional Library, reported to Captain Boardman, Chief of Detectives, yesterday, that his daughter lost or was robbed of a lady's gold breastpin, designed in the form of a leaf and set with eight garnets, during the stampede at the Capitol on the day of the McKinley funeral services.

Since that occasion numerous reports of losses in the panic have been received at the bureau, and the detectives have been instrumental, in a great many cases, in restoring the lost articles. Several pieces of jewelry and pocketbooks, found on the grounds, were restored to their respective owners. There are still in the possession of the police a number of articles which are awaiting owners.
